By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — The Russians today freed two U.S. airmen whose jet reconnaissance plane was shot down by a Soviet fighter over East Germany March 10. Both appeared to be in good health.

Communist East Germany asserted they were "expelled" after the United States gave assurances that strict orders had been issued to prevent a recurrence of air violations. An announcement repeated a Soviet charge the plane was spying, a charge denied by Washington.

Released after 17 days of U.S. diplomatic pressure were Capt. David I. Holland, 35, Holland, Minn., and Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, Philadelphia. Their companion, Lt. Harold Welch, 24, Detroit, was released March 21.

All three parachuted when their twin-engine RB66 penetrated 20 miles into East Germany on a training flight and was shot down. Welch was injured in landing.

Holland and Kessler were handed over at 2:58 p.m. (8:58 a.m. EST) to U.S. authorities at the Western Allies' checkpoint at Helmstedt, on the East German frontier.

There was no announcement of where they had been held. Welch had been confined in a Soviet military hospital at Magdeburg, 120 miles southwest of Berlin.

In Johnson City, Tex., President Johnson expressed gratification that the fliers were released and "that this matter has been sensibly settled."

Kessler's mother, Mrs. Abraham Kessler, exclaimed in Philadelphia that she was "very, very happy he was released by East Germany today on the eve of Passover."

"We're happy and relieved that the affair is wound up and that David is safe," Ambrose Holland Sr., father of the other flier, said in Holland, Minn.

The official East German news agency ADN asserted the RB66 carried "an apparatus for taking pictures from the air and a special apparatus for conducting military investigations with radio-technical means."

Therefore, the agency said, it is clear that the plane was on a spy flight.

The U.S. Air Force has said all along its air control officers were trying to make contact with the plane until it was shot down and has indicated East German jamming stations may have knocked out its radio.

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson stood by today to flash from his Texas ranch the expected word of the release of two American fliers the Soviets shot down over East Germany March 10.

EASTER — AND TOMORROW

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Those who know the meaning of darkness understand the meaning of light. Those who know the burden of slavery know the excitement of freedom. Those who know the load of sin understand the joy of Easter.

We live in a time when we've tried to revive the custom of loading the guilt on someone else. The ancient habit of ceremonially conferring our guilts on a goat and sending the poor animal to its death, is contemporary.

For instance, the recent furor concerning Richard Hochhuth's play "The Deputy" underscores one facet of the moral failure of our recent history. It misses its point if it blames a single individual or group.

The moral failure belonged to a whole host of people, of all religious persuasions and national allegiances. You can't easily discover one scapegoat.

Likewise, it was an easy thing for some to blame the death of Jesus upon the Jewish people. To have so easily placed the blame is to miss the fact of history; it is to ignore the common guilt, the fact of sin itself. That blurs the meaning of Easter.

Paul Tournier, Swiss physician and author, has neatly underscored this common attempt to hand on guilt. He likens it to the old game of "hunt the slipper."

The players sit in a circle and each one hands the slipper until the play is suddenly halted. The person caught with the slipper drops out of the game.

So with gossip and slander with these attempts to shift the blame. So with the characters in the Passion history who tried to put the blood of Jesus on someone else. Let no one sit and gloat. The play will be resumed — and who knows who will be caught with the burden next time?

In the light of Easter, there is no point in shifting responsibility or dwelling on morbid guilt. Easter is awareness of new possibilities. Easter is the liberating fact, the possibility of reconciliation, the call to redeem the past by positive and creative action.

It may be a good thing to air out the old rooms of history and look at the horrible wreckage of our misdeeds. To live in that sense of guilt is to avoid meeting the challenge of redemption. The trouble with too many of us is that we've decided that nothing can be done about the tensions in OUR town, the tombs in OUR neighborhood, the old habit of running from the guilts in OUR groups and the old habits of running from responsibility.

Easter 1964 underscores the power of a loving God bringing man from guilt by way of forgiveness, from forgiveness to reconciling action, and from reconciling action to a new familyhood. And now — Tomorrow.

Man Usually Goes Through Life Wearing Just One Face But a Woman Has Many

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) — Women have many faces.

A man usually goes through life wearing one look. As he grows older it resembles nothing more than the expression of a soggy potato in a rain-washed gutter.

But women are different. They have at least one face for every occasion — and sometimes two. If you will look back at some of the situations you have known involving women, these feminine expressions may seem typical:

The great female stone face — This is the hard, fixed unseeing stare millions of women wear in the street, as if they were sleepwalking zombies.

You know I don't like to be kept waiting — The angry face of a wife who gets to an appointment half an hour late but figures the best defense is an attack.

Well, you've certainly got a nerve — Her eyebrow arches in indignation because you have managed by some gaffish form of behavior to slow milady's progress. You have either got your foot caught under hers, brazenly impaled your eyeball on the point of her umbrella, or failed to push soon enough to help her through a revolving door.

So you had to be the life of the party — This is the protective morning-after accusation. You only had three martinis. She had four. Actually she really doesn't remember too clearly what happens, but figures you must have made a fool of yourself or else why would she feel so awful?

Oh, let's eat any place you'd like. Heaven knows I'm not fussy — But that set smile is ominous. She's in a picky mood. You can name a thousand restaurants — and she'll find something wrong with every one.

If you think it's any picnic trying to run a house on the money you bring home — She has the worn air of a martyr after long torture. Joan of Arc died looking more cheerful.

Oh, you didn't have to do that — An expression of feminine gratitude reserved for a man who buys the girl a $7.50 steak or throws himself under a passing truck to retrieve one of her $2.95 novelty earrings.

Court Agrees Teacher Should Spank

MELBOURNE, Ark. (AP) — An Izard County Circuit Court jury ruled Thursday in favor of a high school instructor who was the defendant in a $50,000 damage suit over the spanking of a girl student.

Cecil Finley of Melbourne filed the suit in behalf of his daughter, Judy, 17.

The suit said Wayborne Watson, 34, a coach and physical education instructor at Melbourne High School, spanked the girl on the hip with his belt last fall.

It said the girl had refused to sit at the sidelines of a basketball court at the school during a physical education class last Oct. 15.

Miss Finley was a member of the school girls' basketball team.

More than 300 spectators crowded the court room to see 18 witnesses, including the entire girls' team, testify.

Eugene R. Warren, attorney for the Arkansas Education Association, said it was one of the few cases of its kind to be tried in Arkansas.

He called the unanimous verdict a "great victory" for the public school teachers of the state.

The suit had asked $25,000 actual damages and $25,000 punitive.

Store Operator Foils Holdup

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A liquor store operator shot and killed one man and wounded another when they tried to rob him Thursday night, police said.

Police said Floyd Strickland, 61, operator of the store, killed Jerry Michael Robertson, 21, and wounded Bill Utah Scott, about 27.

Strickland was shot in the hand and left forearm by a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle, which one of the men carried into the store.

Then Strickland drew a .32 caliber revolver he was wearing on his hip and fired five times.

Robertson was struck in the head. Police said Robertson had been living in Little Rock, but was from Marshall, Scott, who was wounded in both arms, was from Leslie, police said.

Good Friday Is Saddest Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Good Friday, saddest day of the Christian calendar, and the start of Passover, the Jewish festival marking the liberation of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage, coincide today.

Protestant, Catholic and Orthodox churches are holding services at various times today and tonight. Many of them are three-hour services in observance of the three hours of the Crucifixion.

Passover, which emphasizes religious freedom, begins at sundown. It will be observed by Orthodox and Conservative Jews for eight days and by Reform Jews for seven.

Governor Orders Gambling Closed at Hot Springs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus today ordered Garland County authorities to close down gambling in Hot Springs and said that if they did not do so, he would use State Police to close it.

Faubus' reaction came after the Arkansas House passed 91 to 3 Thursday a resolution urging Garland County authorities to close gambling.

The governor issued a handwritten statement to newsmen Friday morning.

He said in the face of the overwhelming sentiment shown by the House, which represents every section of the state, "I expect the proper (local) authorities to act."

"The state stands ready as has always been the case, to assist local authorities whenever requested."

"If no action is taken by the proper authorities, then the state authorities will be directed by me to take action."

Faubus said to a newsman "Don't you think that is strong enough?"

"They have got to close," Faubus said. "I would say within 48 hours."

Faubus said his action was proof that he has been ready to use State Police to enforce gambling laws whenever requested to do so.

He apparently took the House resolution as a mandate.

State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs said he had heard that Faubus was going to close gambling.

"It has everybody worried sick in Hot Springs," Hurst said. "We have only one more week of the races, and if he has to do it, I certainly hope he waits until they are over," Hurst said before Faubus issued his statement.

Bulletin

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — An Air Force B47 bomber crashed in flames into a barn near the Little Rock Air Force Base today.

Jimmie Sizemore, manager of radio station KGMR, Jacksonville, said explosions were coming from the burning wreckage.

Sizemore, at the scene, said a 9-year-old boy, Ricky Butler, who was riding a pony near the barn at the time of the crash, was missing. Another youth, Gary Davenport, who was in the area, was burned.

Several motorists called radio stations to say they had seen the plane crash in flames and that they saw no parachutes.

The crash site was north of Jacksonville. Air Force officials confirmed that it was an Air Force plane.

Registration to Be Handled by Sheriffs

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Almost simultaneously today, the Arkansas House and Senate completed action on a voter registration bill designating sheriff-collectors as the voter registrars.

The Senate passed the House version of the bill 22 to 10. The House adopted the Senate measure 67 to 25.

An emergency clause making the bill effective on signature of the governor was attached to the bill in the Senate by a 27 to 4 vote and in the House by 76 to 18.

There was almost no debate. Sen. Joe Lee Anderson of Helena, handling the House bill in the Senate, said "I'm sure your minds are made up. I'll appreciate a good vote so we can go home."

There was no debate in the House. Rep. Lloyd McCusick of Crittenden County simply pointed out that the House was voting on the sheriff-collectors bill.

Action by each House on the other's bill was all that remained before the special session, called to enact a registration bill to replace the poll tax, could adjourn.

Rep. Cecil B. Nance of Crittenden County said he will file a suit in Pulaski Circuit Court to test legality of the bill as soon as the governor signs it into law. Nance is an attorney.

Rep. Harry Colay of Columbia County got the floor long enough in the House to suggest that other representatives advised their constituents to continue to pay the poll tax just in case something fouls up the registration bill.

He said paying the poll tax would be insurance of being able to vote in all elections regardless of how the courts rule (Continued on Page Six)

Group Trying to Stave Off a Boycott

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Religious leaders proposed Thursday a bi-racial committee to try to head off a school boycott scheduled here April 6.

The Greater Little Rock Ministerial Association proposed a committee to ease racial tensions and offered to convene the first meeting, if opposing sides agreed.

The boycott threat was made last Saturday night by the Council on Community Affairs (COCA) and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

The two anti-segregation groups contend that the Little Rock School Board has acted too slow in desegregation the city schools. They said "the time has come to dramatize the image of Little Rock as portrayed by the school board is a fraud."

The ministerial association proposed an eight-member committee including one member each from the school board, the Chamber of Commerce, the City Manager Board and the Conference on Religion and Race.

Spokesmen for the City Manager Board and Race said they believed their groups would be receptive to the idea.

Russell H. Matson Jr., school board president, called it a fine idea. He said he would poll the other board members to appoint a representative of the board on the committee.

The ministerial association was asked in a letter Wednesday from the COCA to make "an impartial inquiry into the legitimacy of the Negroes' grievances against the school board."

The association suggested that the anti-segregation groups name the other four members to the committee.

Churches in Russia Are Disappearing

NEW YORK (AP)—A privately backed radio station that broadcasts freedom messages to the Soviet Union, reports that Soviet suppression of religion has sharply reduced the number of churches open to worshippers of all faiths.

Radio Liberty, which identifies itself as a "Voice of Freedom" station, says information from behind the Iron Curtain indicates Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be more severe than his predecessors in the campaign to suppress religion.

In a report, Radio Liberty states that the Soviet war against religion, begun after the October 1917 revolution, was relentlessly waged by ex-Premier Josef Stalin. During the bleak days of World War II, however, the Russian Orthodox Church helped collect money for the war effort and this influenced Stalin to exercise a more tolerant attitude toward religion inside the Soviet Union, according to the report.

Radio Liberty claims that when Khrushchev gained power, suppression of religion resumed. Commenting on the apparent paradox involved in sending Russian Orthodox delegates to the Ecumenical Council in Rome, Radio Liberty declared: "The fact is that the atheistic Soviet regime persecutes religious believers while at the same time using their leaders for purposes of foreign policy imagery."

Moscow Claims Fastest Craft

MOSCOW (AP)—The world's fastest river hydrofoil craft has been built in the Soviet Union, Tass claimed Thursday. The Soviet news agency said the vessel has a top speed of 68 miles per hour and can carry 150 passengers. It is driven by gas turbines with water jets rather than screws.

The successful newspaperboy develops a background for future achievement that only a fraction of today's young men will ever attain.

He has a part time job with full time rewards, that pays off now—and in adult life. He operates his own profitable business, the only one that makes him salesman as well as purchasing agent; a delivery man and collector, as well as accountant; and gives him a real insight into human nature.

Under the guidance of men who are interested in and trained to bring hidden talents out of boys, your son could well receive some of the most important training of his entire life.

Not every boy who wants a newspaper route can get one. There simply are not enough openings. But if you think your son might be interested now or at some future time, our Circulation Department would like to hear from you.

PEO Meeting Held At Graves' Home

Mrs. Albert Graves was hostess for a meeting of Chapter AE, P.E.O., on Tuesday afternoon, March 24. The new president, Mrs. Roy Bagley, conducted a routine business meeting and heard committee reports. Mrs. Bagley also presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Herbert Stephens, a tiny gavel to be used as a guard for her P.E.O. pin. This is the usual custom followed regarding outgoing presidents of the chapter.

For the program Mrs. H. O. Kyler had a clever Home Decorating Contest with three prizes awarded to the ones with the best True-False answers. Recipes were also exchanged.

A most attractive and tasty salad plate which used the Easter theme was served with coffee to 18 by Mrs. Graves and her co-hostesses, Mrs. W. E. Trotter and Mrs. Grit Stuart, Jr.

Shower Given Bride-Elect

Miss Darlene Braden, bride-elect of William Tyler was honored with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday, March 24 at the WOW Hall in Hope. She was attractively dressed in pale blue and pinned a pink corsage at her shoulder.

Frosted punch, nuts, and cookies were served from a table decorated in pink and white. Mrs. Leonard Sanders poured. About 55 guests called.

New Sign in Tribute to Bobcats

A NEW RED AND WHITE SCHOOL SIGN has been erected by the Hope High School Student Council in front of the school building.

THIS PROJECT WAS HEADED BY THE Project-Finance Committee with Sammy Strong, chairman, and members Larry Don Wright, Cookie Jones and Joe Purvis.

THE COUNCIL, AFTER DECIDING TO erect a school sign, sponsored a "Sign Contest" to obtain sign ideas. The contest winners were Larry Don Wright and Pat Bright. Their two entries were combined into one design. The emblem on the sign, however, was designed by Georganne Lowe Hairr for the HHS Handbook and was copied for the sign.

THE METAL FRAMEWORK WAS CONSTRUCTED BY Paul O'Neal. The bricks were donated by the Hope Brick Works, and J. W. Field contributed his time in laying the bricks. The sign was painted by Waller and Waller and the light was donated by the city.

THE CONCRETE "H" IN FRONT OF the sign was painted by Mr. Troy Buck's Agri boys. Shrubs were also placed inside the "H" by the Student Council. This project is only one of many sponsored by the HHS Student Council.

Easter Finds Easing of Fear, Friction

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — This Easter is as hopeful as the nation and the world has known for some years. It probably is as full of promise as the world could expect.

No millennium in sight. Just a fair quota of peace and an easing of friction and fear. Americans, and all the rest, have cause to be grateful.

Americans have lived with this risk for so long now that this Easter's comparative freedom from imminent disaster nurtures confidence and hope.

This shows up in many ways in the United States—from the fairly trivial matter of buying a new hat to the long-range planning that industry is doing just now with greater assurance.

Industry donates huge sums each year to college and university programs, and carries on many of its own. Some of this aid goes into scientific research, either for general advancement or for handling the problems of particular industries. Much of it goes into educating youth for the new techniques and tasks that a more prosperous America will depend upon.

Much also results in the general advancement of the nation's level of intelligence and understanding — never more needed than today.

More important perhaps is the growing feeling that some-

DOROTHY DIX

A PSYCHOLOGIST'S ADVICE TO A YOUNG BRIDE

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm sure most brides are happy in their new marriage. I certainly am. Dr. Brothers, what should those of us who are newly married know about keeping our relation just that way?—D. B.

Dear D. B.: A study of some 10,000 marriages was carried out by Dr. Karl Zimmerman of Harvard, and the Rev. Lucius Cervantes of St. Louis University. Along with other findings, the wife, True, a husband adds in making a marriage happy is or subtracts by his attitude and outlook, but the wife as the maker of the home plays the lead role in happiness.

What is characteristic of a wife who makes possible a happy marriage? It lies in how she meets day-to-day situations and small problems that are bound to arise by every couple's lives. Naturally, we all have different personalities, but there is a strong similarity among wives who have happy marriages, and meet day-to-day events in the same way. It applies across all social and economic classes and groups.

This new study showed this: That the first secret of the wife who keeps that special feeling in marriage is that she keeps their mutual interest alive — that is, interest in each other.

The wife who keeps that special feeling is the wife who sends her husband off to work with a kiss and a cheerful remark. In the evening, she greets him in the same way.

This isn't Pollyanna. It's an open expression of love. The new husband then knows he means something to his wife, and isn't simply an economic convenience. Each morning thing really can be done to make this much better and more meaningful to more people.

This aura of expectation, even if a bit wistful, stretches beyond the nation's boundaries.

Today's international debates in Geneva between the haves and the have-nots stress the difference and sore points between rich and poor nations. But out of the acrimony may come some attempts to ease the friction. And a few years back the talks couldn't have been held at all.

Many of America's corporations with international dealings are working along quietly in the same direction. Fruits of their activities in other lands often go unnoticed—the raising of living standards there, the industrialization and development which these nations crave.

good-bye and evening greeting is reassurance of it.

This new survey showed the intimacies of sex are another central and important area to couples who keep that special feeling in their marriage. In the broader picture of things, sex in marriage is more of a secondary goal to a woman. Her home, and the security of her family leads. To a man, however, it is a prime motivation. A man, especially a young husband, is more intense in his feelings and needs. There is a common denominator among wives who keep that special feeling in their marriage, and this is in the area of sex. The young wife openly tells her husband he is desirable, adequate, and in fact exciting, and she understands the greater sex drives of the man. His desire is not a signal of selfishness. Rather, it is an element of his masculinity, and inborn in the male.

How you behave in a crisis is also very important in keeping that special feeling. If the unexpected happens, and you don't know which way to turn, back up your man. Let him know you're with him, and not just a new dependent who expects shielding from the unexpected.

The unexpected always happens in marriage. Prepare your attitude before it does. If your husband's job is threatened, or other events such as this develop, don't go into a tailspin. Act encouragingly. Give him your moral support. Show him you're with him, that you're a member of the team, too, even when things don't go well.

There was a subtle point that how you keep your home is closely related to how you keep your marriage. When your husband returns from a long and perhaps hard day at the office, try to see to it your home is reasonably neat and tidy, not cluttered up with things you try to explain away with the complaint, "Housekeeping is such a job. You just don't realize it."

Another suggestion: Try not to insist your husband do routine feminine jobs when he comes home from his job. If he volunteers cheerily, fine. But do not make a new husband, or an old one for that matter, into a mother's helper.

Now, a final suggestion from these surveyors, who studied what makes a marriage happy: Try to think in terms of "we," rather than in terms of "I."

Weekend: The problem of the too-beautiful.

Canadians May Merge All Forces

OTTAWA (AP) — A plan to merge Canadian army, navy and air services into a unified defense force, beginning with the appointment of single defense chief, was unveiled today in a government White Paper on defense.

The paper, presented to Parliament by Defense Minister Paul Hellyer, also laid down the outline of a 10-year defense plan stressing development of flexible, mobile military units that could be available for quick movement to any part of the world.

It predicted "considerable savings" through combining headquarters, training and administrative staffs now maintained by each service. These now tie up about 50,000 of Canada's 122,000 full-time servicemen.

Unofficial estimates are that savings in this field could amount to $100 million a year on the current defense budget, which runs about a billion dollars.

The policy paper stresses the continuance of Canada's roles in North American air defense and the Atlantic alliance and says these must of necessity include nuclear weapons.

Food Stamp Plan Is Extended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal food stamp program test in Independence County has been extended until June 30.

The program was scheduled to end March 31. It began April 1, 1963. The state sought the extension.

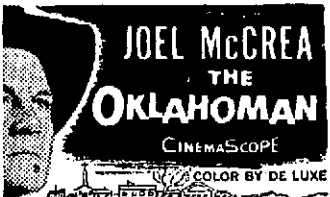

Under the program, the Agriculture Department provides needy persons with food stamps that can be exchanged for groceries at retail stores.

Thinks U.S. Swimmers Will Do Well

By LOU BLACK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—How will America's swimmers do in the Tokyo Olympics next October?

It's still seven months away, but Olympic Coach Jim Counsilman says he can hardly wait after seeing some top prospects bluster the Yale pool Thursday.

The tall, bald Counsilman was smiling as the collegians opened the three-day annual NCAA swimming and diving championships by breaking one American and four NCAA records in four races.

The record-wrecking was expected to continue today in five tests, all over the 200-yard distance, including the freestyle where Yale's Steve Clark and Southern California's Roy Saari may collide.

Both figured big in Thursday's assault on the standards. Saari, 19-year-old sophomore, won the 500-yard freestyle in 4:43.8, bettering the old mark of 4:40.7 set last year by John Konrads, the Australian Olympian.

Clark shattered the 50-yard sprint record by leading the qualifiers in 20.9 seconds, but lost by a shade to his teammate, Mike Austin in the final. The old NCAA record was 21 seconds posted in 1963 by Steve Jackman while at Minnesota.

The other record-breaking performances were registered by Southern California's 400-yard medley relay team: Bob Bennett, who swam the opening leg in that race, and Dick McGeagh, another Trojan, who won the 400-yard individual medley.

The Southern Cal team nosed out Yale in the medley relay in 3:30.9 for the new NCAA record and Bennett lowered the American 100-yard backstroke mark.

Wally Moon Is Last of Mavericks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Wally Moon is the last of the mavericks. A pawn in Manager Walter Alston's platoon pattern, the Los Angeles Dodger outfielder constantly rebels at being a part time player.

"I'm a better ball player when I'm in there every day," he keeps telling his manager. But Alston, unimpressed by the veteran's plea, continues to play the left handed hitting Moon in spots, usually against the stronger right-handed pitchers.

"I am not criticizing the skipper's policy," said Moon. "In fact, his two-platooning has proved very successful. And I'm sure it's helped certain players. But not me. The best year I've ever had was in 1961, when I played against all types of pitching. I batted .328 that season and drove in 88 runs."

In the past two years, Moon has had to share the right field berth with Frank Howard.

"I've never had any trouble hitting left-handers," said Moon. "I got one chance to play regularly last year. That was for a month from the middle of June to the middle of July. I played in 30 straight games, against both left and right-handed pitching and I batted around .350."

Moon got little opportunity to play after that because Howard got hot, hitting 15 of his 28 homers after the All-Star break. Wally finished the season with .262 but owns a .291 lifetime batting average through 10 years.

Coaches Like Such Headaches

LEXINGTON Ky. (AP)—All coaches would like to have the problems and headaches that plague Stats Gill of Oregon State and Jack Gardner of Utah.

The two will coach the East and West teams in Saturday afternoon's East-West College All-Star basketball game and there's so much talent on hand that both are working overtime just trying to come up with a starting line-up.

Gill will handle the West and Gardner the East.

The contest sponsored by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m. (EST) and will be televised throughout most of the nation.

The West, which lost 77-70 in the first annual game last year, has been installed a slight favorite this year because of its height advantage. There are only three men on the 10-man West squad under 6-foot-6, while the East has only two over 6-5.

Not Listed But Takes Limelight

You won't find Frank Udvari's name listed in any team line-up. Nevertheless he took the limelight Thursday night in the opening of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal playoffs.

Udvari is a referee and his whistle blowing set two Stanley Cup playoff records and equalled two others as the Montreal Canadiens beat Toronto 2-0. He handed out a record 16 penalties in the first period and a record total of 31 in the rough game before 13,934 at Montreal.

In contrast only 11 penalties were assessed at Chicago where the Black Hawks exploded for three goals in the last period to whip Detroit 4-1.

Included in the record 31 total was a bench penalty against Montreal for having too many men on the ice and one against Claude Provost late in the game for an illegal faceoff procedure.

Provost was mad in the dressing room over this call, disregarding his assist on both of Montreal's goals. He passed to Boom-Boom Geoffrion for the first one at 6:53 of the opening period and did likewise to Ralph Backstrom at 9:32 of the second period. Meantime goalie Charlie Hodge had little trouble registering his fifth shutout of the season against the Leafs.

Andre Pronovost put Detroit ahead at 12:16 of the first period before 15,697 at Chicago, but Ab McDonald tied the score

Clay Money Guaranteed a Rematch

By LARRY OSIUS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay had to agree to put half of his purse from his fight with Sonny Liston—some $225,000—in escrow in order to get a crack at the former champion, an attorney has testified.

Gordon B. Davidson, attorney for a Louisville, Ky., group sponsoring Clay told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee Thursday:

"We didn't like it, we don't like it, but we had to swallow it... because Clay wanted to fight for the title."

Clay won the championship in the Feb. 25 match at Miami when Liston failed to answer the bell in the seventh round. The committee has been taking testimony for three days about arrangements concerning the fight and will resume hearings Monday.

Davidson said Liston, when he was challenging former champion Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight title, had to agree to a rematch promoted by a firm selected by Patterson and also had to post half of his purse from the first fight as a guarantee he would give Patterson a rematch.

When backers of Liston—after he stopped Patterson in the first round of both fights—began negotiations with Clay, Davidson said, they insisted on a similar clause in the contract, although the pact did not specifically call for a rematch. It required that half of Clay's purse would be placed in escrow and that a group of which Liston was a stockholder would have the right to promote the match.

Davidson said the rematch agreement was in a second contract, kept secret until after the Miami fight.

"This was the deal they had to swallow to get a fight with Patterson and they were going to make the next guy swallow it," the attorney said.

Davidson said Clay received $50,000 for expenses for agreeing to give Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc., the firm in which Liston is a shareholder, the right to promote Clay's first championship fight and to name his opponent.

About the secret rematch agreement Davidson said:

"I'm not sure about the legality of this provision, and I still don't like it. I don't think we would have agreed to it except that Clay wanted to fight for the title and this was the only way he could do it."

The World Boxing Association prohibits rematch clauses in contracts.

Marquette Seeks a New Coach

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Marquette University — which put all of its athletic eggs into basketball four years ago — was looking for a new athletic director and cage coach today after the dismissal of Eddie Hickey.

Hickey, the 61-year-old outspoken "Little General" who has won or directed his teams to most of basketball's top honors since he began coaching in 1927, said he was "not ready or prepared for retirement."

Hickey was turned out after the poorest season in his coaching career and after the worst record since Marquette began basketball in 1917. The Warriors had a 5-21 record and lost 15 in a row before closing the season with a victory.

Hickey, who had a 90-72 record in six seasons at Marquette, also coached at Creighton and St. Louis University, where his teams had a combined record of 444 victories against 159 defeats.

Older Horse Will Get Their Chance

After today's $250,000-added Bay Shore Stakes at Aqueduct the 3-year-olds step aside while the older horses race for the big money Saturday with the $50,000-added Donn Handicap at Gulfstream Park topping the national feature race card.

Eleven Derby-age colts five of them eligible for the May 2 running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs tangle in the seven furlongs of the Bay Shore. But Black Mountain who was not named for the Kentucky classic is the likely favorite off his victory in the Swift two weeks ago.

Black Mountain owned by J. M. Roebing has won two races since running 10th in Hialeah Park's Hibiscus. Bupers captured the Hibiscus and it was the same horse from Mrs. Marion R. Frankel' barn who kept the Roebing ace from having a perfect record last year when he edged Black Mountain in the Futurity at Aqueduct.

Bupers is back today under top weight of 130 pounds 13 more than Black Mountain picks up with Bill Shoemaker in the saddle. Money will determine the weight in this allowance race.

Bupers is eligible for the Kentucky Derby along with Alphabet Determined Man High Finance and Sacred River.

The Donn will be run on the grass with Cedar Key the probable favorite under topweight of 122 pounds. Victory in one division of the rich San Juan Capistrano at Santa Anita earned him the favorite's role over

Four Found Willing to Fight Clay

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission has rounded up four men who say they are willing to fight it out to see which one should face Cassius Clay for the heavyweight title in September or October.

Notably missing is the man who refused to fall in the round Cassius called. That's Doug Jones.

Also absent is Sonny Liston, who has been refused a New York license.

Present are former champion Floyd Patterson, plus Cleveland Williams of Houston, Eddie Machen of San Francisco and Ernie Terrell of Chicago.

Nothing has been signed. And it is a long way between the talk and the bell, but if plans work out Patterson will fight Williams and Machen will meet Terrell before June.

Then the winners will fight, with the winner of that one going against Cassius in New York in September or October.

Harry Markson, director of boxing at Madison Square Garden, said he had already made an offer to Patterson and Williams for a fight around June 22. He said he would like to make the Machen-Terrell fight in May.

Jones was invited to participate in the elimination tournament but declined. Ranked No. 1 by the World Boxing Association Jones said "I already have earned the right to fight Clay."

He said he thought he had won the 10-round fight with Cassius at Madison Square Garden a year ago. Cassius got the widely disputed verdict, after predicting that Jones would fall in five, or so.

Jones is ranked No. 2 by Ring, right behind Liston, who is not ranked by the WBA.

Two other boxers, Zora Folley and Harold Johnson, tried to get into the elimination picture, but the commission turned them down.

Harp Resigns Kansas Post

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Ralph Miller of Wichita and Ted Owens, Kansas assistant, are running neck-and-neck among Kansas alumni for the head basketball coaching job resigned by Dick Harp Thursday.

This doesn't mean either one is certain to get the job. Miller is a prime candidate for the vacancy at Iowa and is visiting there today.

The decision will be made by the Athletic Board Chancel W. Clarke Wescoe and the new athletic director, Wade Stinson. They have made no decision about their next step. The Athletic Board won't act formally on Harp's resignation until April 16.

Harp's resignation wasn't unexpected.

He had considered leaving coaching in recent years and decided this was a good time to make the move because Kansas prospects are bright. He announced no future plans.

Killoqua in Role of the Favorite

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Killoqua takes on a tough assignment in the favorite's role for the $3,500 American Legion purse at Oaklawn Park today.

It will be the first trip to the post since Feb. 29 when the John D. Askew star won the King Cotton Handicap.

Killoqua bears high weight of 122 pounds for the 6-furlong allowance test.

Mrs. John D. Durrell's Coal King, runner-up to Killoqua in the King Cotton, carries 115 pounds.

Other contenders: Marion H. Van Berg's Nemrac, W. Hal Bishop's Almemar, John M. Hart's Missile Man.

The field is completed by J. C. Pollard's Big Joe, Charles A. Dubois' Federal Man, B. H. Ford's King's Highway, Jack McElroy's Quick Reading, George Hallock's Winfall and Emil A. Dure's Nebuchadnezzar.

Find out for yourself what this Chevy II can really do. If there are hills nearby, let it give them a good going-over. Then see it give slow-moving trucks the run-around. With its new extra-cost V8 you need but give the accelerator an inch, and this Super Sport will take a mile.

And this great highway performer looks the part it plays so well. A glance at its all-vinyl interior and door-to-door carpeting will tell you that. There's your choice of either the floor-mounted Powerglide or Four-Speed Synchro-Mesh transmission. Both are optional at extra cost, along with a Positraction rear axle, AM-FM radio, and many other accessories. And for all its new power, Chevy II rides so softly it seems to glide along the highway. AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

End of Audit Report.

WHAT IS ABC?

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, Chicago, by its own definition is: "A co-operative association of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers for the verification of circulation of newspaper and periodical members in the United States and Canada."

It is controlled by those who buy advertising (manufacturing, merchandising and service companies, and their agencies) rather than those who sell advertising (newspapers and magazines).

COST OF ADVERTISING

Pick up an invoice for newspaper advertising and you will find that you are billed for so many column-inches at so much per inch. That's how it is billed — but that isn't how it is sold.

The price of an inch of advertising is meaningless unless you know what the paper's circulation is. When you know that you know the cost.

The cost of advertising is the cost per inch per thousand circulation. That's the great yardstick by which advertising is bought and sold from coast to coast. The national advertisers call it "the milline" — the cost per line (1/14th of an inch) per million circulation.

Now you know why ABC audits are important. They verify circulation — the factor which is combined with the publisher's charge per inch to establish the advertising cost yardstick.

IT'S CHEAP TODAY

While prices of other manufactured articles are up 300% the last 35 years the cost of advertising in this newspaper has risen but 72%. The rate per-inch has increased, it is true — but so has paid circulation. Here is the 35-year comparison:

Local "open" rate per inch per thousand	1929	1964
--	------	------

	20c	34.3c
--	-----	-------

And that's a performance we feel deserves a page advertisement all its own.

on the hill. The sheriff-collectors emerged victorious Thursday in a battle over which county official should be designated voter registrar.

The triumph was not accidental. Representatives of the Arkansas Sheriffs Association lobbied furiously for their bill until the House capitulated and passed it Thursday afternoon.

House support for naming county assessors as registrars collapsed Wednesday after a token show of support led to defeat of the sheriff-collectors bill the first time it was considered.

The collapse was so complete that the measure got 69 votes, 18 more than it needed, when it was brought up Thursday on reconsideration.

The emergency clause in the House bill got 78 votes. It needed only 67. Until the ballot was tallied there was some doubt of the ability of supporters to get an emergency clause on the bill.

The Senate had failed to approve an emergency clause on its bill on the initial vote. It succeeded in attaching the clause Thursday morning with 27 votes. It needed 24, and was one short of adoption on the first vote Wednesday.

The bill, which will go to Gov. Orval E. Faubus for his signature, requires registration each year. Certain relatives can register for the voter.

Identification at the polls will be no more complicated than it is under the poll tax system. The bills passed exactly as recommended by the council following a public hearing except that it has no clause providing for optional designation by the registrar of his political party affiliation.

Both houses struck the party designation provision before acting on the bill. It had been added during the council hearing at the insistence of Perry County

Winter Will Relax Grip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter promised today to relax its grip on the state, giving Arkansans a mild, dry Easter weekend under clear to partly cloudy skies.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a slight warming trend today, but said temperatures over the weekend will be cool—with high readings from the mid 50s north to 70 south and low marks from 38 north to 48 south.

Rain is not expected until the first part of next week, in the form of showers of less than a quarter inch of moisture.

A severe freeze predicted today failed to develop in most sections of the state and low readings were generally in the low 30s. Gilbert reported 26 degrees, however, Fayetteville 27 and Memphis 28.

Lows from the 30s north to low 20s south were predicted for tonight.

had agreed to free the men today in Germany and it said no swap was involved.

They are Capt. David I. Holland 35, of Holland, Minn., and Melvin J. Kessler, 31, of Philadelphia.

Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, of Detroit, was the third member of the crew of an unarmed reconnaissance plane that was knocked down when it strayed over Communist territory 17 days ago. Welch parachuted down, suffered a broken leg and arm and was released last Saturday.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin talked secretly with Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Washington Thursday and promised that Holland and Kessler would be freed today, informants said.

Shortly after Johnson arrived at his ranch for an Easter vacation, the temporary White House announced the forthcoming release officially.

Rusk had announced on a television show Sunday that Holland and Kessler would be liberated shortly.

George Reedy, presidential press secretary, declined to say whether Johnson had any direct hand in the promised release of Holland and Kessler or what his reaction had been.

The President and Mrs. Johnson landed at Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex. late Thursday and flew on by helicopter to the LBJ Ranch.

They plan to stay at least through the weekend and perhaps longer. Mrs. Johnson, in any event, will remain in Texas through Tuesday. She is going to Denton that day to receive an honorary law degree from Texas Woman's University.

The Johnson daughters, Lynda and Luci, stayed in Washington, where they will be hostesses at the egg rolling on the White House lawn Easter Monday.

Rep. Paul Van Dalsem. He actually wanted a mandatory party loyalty pledge, but settled for the optional provision at the suggestion of Faubus, who gave it lukewarm support.

Van Dalsem supported the assessors bill, and he was the only such supporter to make a speech in behalf of the sheriffs bill when it became obvious that this was the one that would pass.

Van Dalsem said the House had to pass the bill or go home without enacting a registration law.

THE WEEPING WIDOW MINE

It was well after six the next morning when Begetta nuzzled him out of his uneasy dreams. Sore eyed and tousled from his bout with the winds Charlie got up, aching and miserable.

He peeled a few purple pears that were bitter enough to pucker a pig's mouth. He offered some to Begetta, watched her lip them suspiciously, make a horrible face and go snorting away. He managed to get down the rest of them himself, but as a breakfast he found them pretty puny.

Distant hills began to shimmer and writhe in the furnace-dry heat, the mountains behind them turning gray as smoke through the interlacing film. The glare became ferocious; but three hours past noon wolf's candle appeared with its thorny gray wands and occasional vermillion blossom, and sparse clumps of grass began to fringe the climbing swells. Soon they were in better country, following a draw up into higher ground; the yucca fell behind and stunted mesquites began to rear their gnarled trunks. Begetta, with quickening steps, was already crossing a spur up ahead before Medders spotted the outcrop he'd been hunting.

Now he could hear the burro scrambling up his private trail. The way rose slowly and with deceptive ease, but after the first bench it struck a steeper pitch, and from there on it became one sharper slant piled on top of another. And there was wind up there among these treacherous rocks, sharp sudden gusts that could slam a man straight out into space. He gained another bench, somewhat better than halfway up and flopped down to rest, too beat to go another foot.

But presently, after his muscles quit jumping and he got back some of his breath, he pulled himself up and took another long glower out over the country they'd just crawled out of.

So far as he could see there was no sign of pursuit. Now that T. K. had things going his way he had probably called off his gun thrower and ordered Mc-

Farron's posse home.

Still muttering and mumbling Medders resumed the climb to his cave. He'd take another look there, but he guessed — for a while at least — he could let down a little and not expect every moment to have to cut and run or be ducking a blue whistler. Nothing wore a man down quicker than that kind of thing, and except for the way it would have made him look he might have seriously considered packing up and pulling out. No, even silver rich as this, was worth getting killed for!

Next morning things looked different. Food and a good night's sleep had driven most of the daunsiness out of him. Whistling cheerfully, he fried up a breakfast of sow belly liberally seasoned with frijoles and chili peppers which he afterwards washed down with java hot from the can in which he had boiled it strong enough to float a he-kangaroo.

He further relaxed in the fragrance of tobacco and when this was finished climbed up to the cave mouth where, concealed by a tangle of manzanita, he considered again the dun miles spread below.

He got up presently, climbed around some more rocks and peered down into the wild hay trap. Having satisfied himself he need have no worries about Begetta, who was dozing in the shade of a beanless mesquite, he went back in the cave, dug up a spare candle, put on his miner's cap and began a cautious descent of the reinforced ladders which brought him, af-

Oaklawn Park, where pari-mutuel betting is legal.

Hot Springs has operated as a wide-open gambling resort for almost a century, with only a few brief shutdowns.

Several large casinos, operated in conjunction with supper clubs, run full blast during the ter some seven or eight minutes, into the chamber where he'd found that cache of what he still considered to be stolen highgrade.

He got a hammer from his pocket and walked around tapping walls. Every blow rang solid. He found no evidence at all that might indicate even the remotest possibility of blocked-up passages or other hidden hoards. He would have liked to believe this was an old Spanish mine, but it seemed pretty obvious it was nothing of the sort.

He knocked loose more ore from the place he'd got the rest of it, digging back of what was already exposed to uncover another layer of equally rich specimens. But when, excited, he lifted several of these out in the hope there might be more, all he found for the bother was a wall of solid granite. Though he widened the hole to a full yard across, each chunk removed uncovered nothing but more granite. The ore had not been extracted from that. It wasn't even the same color.

U.S. Studied Over All Out Arms Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has carefully studied proposals for direct racing season and a few operate all year.

Gambling has been a multi-million dollar business in the resort.

Hurst said Thursday after the House resolution passed that Hot Springs interests were ready to circulate petitions to get legal gambling on a local option basis on the November general election ballot as an initiated act.

If passed, it would operate in the same way as local option liquor laws.

Hurst did not say who would circulate the petitions.

Several members of the House said today it was up to Faubus whether the resolution had any affect.

Independence County Rep. Virgil Butler said "The vote on the resolution will show the attitude of the House toward law enforcement. I consider it a state-wide expression of opinion."

Butler said he felt the resolution would enable Faubus "to take action in Hot Springs if he wishes to do so."

The only gambling legal under Arkansas law is pari-mutuel betting at Oaklawn Park horse race track in Hot Springs and Southland dog racing track at West Memphis.

April Proclaimed Cancer Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson proclaimed the month of April as cancer control month and called Thursday for renewed efforts to cut the toll of the disease.

military action against North Viet Nam, says Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

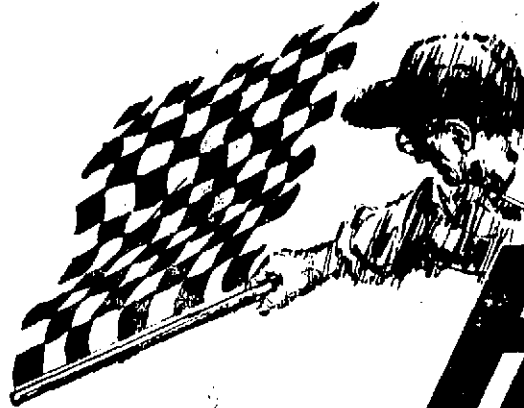

While not ruling out the possibility of such a move, he said any action along this line would only supplement the main task of wiping out Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

He said military action "particularly against North Viet Nam, in order to supplement the counterinsurgency program in South Viet Nam" was one of the options placed before President Johnson last week after McNamara and Gen. Maxwell Taylor returned from Viet Nam.

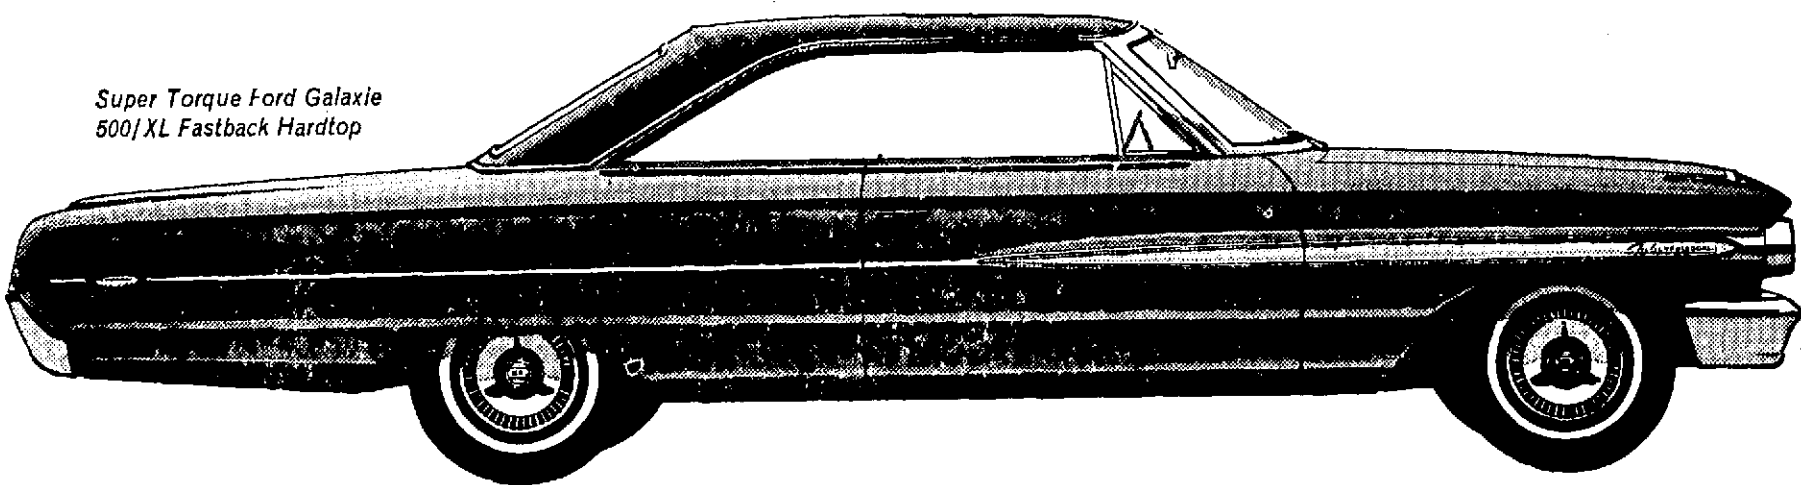

"This course of action — its implications and ways of carrying it out — has been carefully studied," McNamara told the National Security Industrial Association in a speech Thursday night.

"Whatever ultimate course of action may be forced on us by the other side, it is clear that actions under his option would be only a supplement to, not a substitute for, progress within South Viet Nam's own borders." The secretary said the situation in South Viet Nam "has unquestionably worsened" since last fall, but that the new government of Gen. Nguyen Khanh is working on military and civilian programs to improve the situation.
